Why this happened

It looks like this account was created or used with an automation that doesn't follow our rules. This goes against our Advertising Standards on account integrity.

Examples of things that we don't allow

- Automations where a large amount of activity is quickly created by a machine
- Automations that mimic human activity
- Automations which take away from authentic, human activity

About Meta's rules

Restrictions help create a safe community and empower meaningful connections across Meta.
